CONNECTING LINKS BETWEEN PARTS II AND III

REUNION OF 1937

ON THE 7th of August, 1937, the seventh annual reunion of the Clan of Jacob Miller of 1748 was held at the Sangerville Church of the Brethren, Sangerville, Va. About two hundred persons were present, and a marked interest was shown. Earlys, Florys, Garbers, Wines and other clans of Millers were invited, and many of them met with us. Rev. Henry C. Early, of Dayton, Va., conducted the devotional exercises. The address of welcome was given by J. S. Wine, and responses were given by Rev. Homer Zigler of Churchville, Va., and Joseph Early of Monaca, Pa. Dr. John S. Flory of Bridge-water College gave the address of the day. Dr. Flory is a descendant of Nancy Miller, a daughter of Jacob of 1748. He told of the life and Missionary labors of another Jacob Miller who came to Virginia just before the Revolutionary war, and who was a pioneer missionary in three states.

The historian explained the family charts, especially the three large trees upon which he has spent much time. Part I, including the Samuel Miller branch, came from the press in December 1936, and Part II, the Abraham Miller branch, was published in July 1937. A number of copies of both books were sold at the reunion.

Letters of greeting were read by the secretary from the following: Miss Sara Garber, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Carrie Smith, of Ceredo, W. Va.; S. A. Miller of Modesto, Cal.; Rev. and Mrs. P. S. Davis of Springs, Pa.; William E. Davis of Beaverton, Mich.; J. B. Wine of Ft. Myers, Fla.; Mrs. Nettie B. Carpenter of Montgomery, Tex.; and Granville D. Andes of Breckenridge, Tex.

Music for the program was furnished by a mixed quartet, a ladies' duet, and a solo by little Barbara Rexrode. Readings were given by Miss Stella Wine and Maurice Click.

A picnic dinner was served in the basement of the church, and the social hour was enjoyed by all. Relatives came from Roanoke, Vienna and Nokesville, Va., and from Washington, D. C. Representatives were present from West Virginia, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York.

The following officers were reelected: Dr. O. L. Miller, Harrisonburg, Va., President; Rev. L. S. Miller, Harrisonburg, Va., Vice President; Miss Mary F. Hinegardner, McGaheysville, Va., Secretary; Minor W. Miller, Bridgewater, Va., Treasurer; Rev. J. Carson Miller, Moores Store, Va., Historian.

It was decided to hold the reunion of 1938 at Garber's Church, near Harrisonburg, Va., on the first Saturday in August. Mrs. Annie Miller Myers was appointed Chairman of the Program Committee.

ADDITIONS, OMISSIONS AND CORRECTIONS

Naturally, there will be births, deaths and marriages from time to time. These we aim to supply if we hear of them. There will be omissions, because many items are not reported to us in time. If we succeed in getting this information later, it will be published in a succeeding issue.

Naturally too, there will be mistakes. We have come to the conclusion that it is absolutely impossible to get out work of this kind without mistakes. The information passes through so many different hands that somebody is bound to make a slip somewhere, either in regard to a date or an item of history. We aim to leave plenty of blank space so that missing items can be entered where they belong.

MARTIN MILLER

HAVING followed the descendants of Samuel Miller, one of the sons of Jacob of 1748, in Part I, and the descendants of Abraham, another son, in Part II, we shall now in Part III, as far as we are able, trace the descendants of Martin Miller, another son of Jacob. These descendants are exceedingly numerous and the records in many cases either lost or incomplete. Hence, our friends will have to excuse us for leaving out much information that they would like to have.

Martin Miller was b. in Rockingham county, Va. His occupation was farming. To him and Esther Bowman Miller were b. nine children, five boys and four girls. Esther Bowman Miller was buried in the Beaver Creek Cemetery, Rockingham county, Va. After her death (in 1840) he married Catherine Brillhart, and lived at her home, in Shenandoah county, Va., until his death.

Martin Miller seems to have had considerable inventive and constructive skill. He built a stationary threshing machine in his barn, which was said to have been of very simple construction, but it actually did the work. In fact, it appears that the above trait was a characteristic of many of the older members of the Miller family. They lived in an age when it was emphatically true that "Necessity is the mother of invention." It might be better for us today if we had to do a little more thinking to provide ourselves with what we consider necessary to help us in our work, instead of going to the factory or store and buying what some one else has invented for us. However, since our forefathers have done so much for us, is it not our duty to continue the improvement they have made, and make yet further strides toward perfection?

THE OLD BRIDGEWATER CHURCH

It may be of interest to many to know something of the history of the old Bridgewater Church, a cut of which we give. My friend, Mr. S. H. W. Byrd of Bridgewater tells the story in the Daily News-Record as follows:

The old Church of the Brethren which stood for nearly sixty years at the north end of the corporate limits of Bridgewater, locally known as the "Old Dunkard Church," has been torn down, the lumber sold and trucked away. Nothing now remains of it but a precious memory. Very few people now living in the town, remember its dedication, but all treasure the memory of the old church as one of their most precious recollections. Many of the prominent ministers of the Church of the Brethren in the United States, of the last half century have preached in this old church.

It was largely through the influence of the late Rev. S. F. Sanger, who was a druggist, and the late Peter S. Miller, a carriage manufacturer, both of whom became citizens of the town about the year 1874, and were among Bridgewater's most prominent business men, that the church was built here, which furnished the nucleus for the Virginia Normal School, which later became Bridgewater College. So this old church was an important factor in making Bridgewater an educational center. For many years it has been one of Bridgewater's landmarks.

The church was built on two acres of land acquired from Samuel Miller, "of Cook's Creek." * * * On Feb. 9, 1878 the plat of ground was surveyed and transferred to the church. * * * Sunday morning, Aug. 25, 1878, while there was a heavy rain falling, and a congregation estimated at three thousand present, the church was dedicated. * * * The principal speaker on the occasion was that "Grand Old Man," the Rev. Solomon Garber. The Bridgewater (Cook's Creek) congregation used this house as a place of worship until the new church, on College Street, was built, and dedicated on Sunday, Jan. 17, 1915. From the time of the dedication of the old church to the dedication of the new church, on College Street, no one here seems to recall that there were any marriages in the church, but hundreds of funerals have been held within its walls.

THE DESCENDANTS OF MARTIN MILLER

Although the descendants of this branch of the Jacob Miller tree are exceedingly numerous in Virginia, hundreds of them are scattered through Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, and other parts of the West and North. Had it not been for the help we have received from Rev. Hugh Miller of North Manchester, Ind., Rev. J. Andrew Miller of Muncie, Ind., and Mrs. F. M. Karn of Logansport, Ind., we could not have made a record of these noble sons and daughters of the Miller family.

OLD BRIDGEWATER CHURCH AND CEMETERY

S. JACOB MILLER (PART III, 58) AND WIFE

The Huber-Hoover family m. at different times into our line of Millers. From Rev. Hugh Miller we learn that John Huber came from Germany, and that he was married twice. One daughter, Mary, born to the first marriage, m. Nicolas Miller. (Nicolas, however, does not seem to be from our line of Millers. He is a descendant of one Peter Miller, who emigrated from Germany in 1758.) John Huber's second marriage was to Margaret Stotemeyer, and they became the parents of a large family. Dianah Huber, who m. Jacob Miller, was the daughter of John Huber and Margaret Stotemeyer. The Huber family, with their mother Margaret, moved to Ohio in 1832, from Rockingham county, Va.

Mrs. Karn, in referring to Daniel Miller, says: "He was a kind and active little man, and seemed to be more of a 'pal' to his children than their mother. The members of the Daniel Miller family as a whole were mostly short and stout, and were 'go getters.' They seldom complained, but when they were sick enough to give up the duties of life they did not last long. A doctor who lived in the vicinity where they lived is said to have remarked that it was hard to doctor the Millers, as you could not tell just how sick they were, for they kept going when they should have been in bed." (See No. 9).

Jacob Miller went to Ohio while yet a single man.

"He was m. and settled on a farm near DeGraff, O., where they raised a family of seven children, five girls and two boys. They owned a home in the country, and always lived on the farm, as he was partial to farm life. Their girls were all married at home, and all settled near their old home, except Susan, the youngest. She m. and moved to Iowa, and settled in Manchester, Delaware county, where she lived for eight years, when she and her husband became dissatisfied with the cold winters. So in 1883 they moved to Missouri, and took up a homestead in the Ozark mountains. But not being accustomed to such a rough country, they were not contented, and in 1886 they moved to Florida, and settled on the east coast, on Indian River. On account of mosquitoes and other insects this did not prove a pleasant home. In 1890 they sold this home and came to the west coast, near St. Petersburg. Here they are perfectly contented, and think they have found the home they have been long looking for." So wrote Susan Miller Mohr in 1916.

"Daniel Miller and wife came to Indiana in 1860, and bought a farm near Peru. The Civil War coming on, he lost what was due him from Virginia. He was a Miller by trade as well as by name. He ran a grist mill in Virginia, and a saw mill in Indiana, also a threshing outfit for a time. Though somewhat encumbered while living, he was strictly honest in his dealings and in his profession. It was truthfully said of him that when he owed a dollar he paid it." So wrote John A. Kinzie, of Macy, Indiana. Daniel Miller died in his 66th year, identified with the Old Order Brethren. His farm was located near the little town of Courter. Later, after his wife died, he spent the last year or two of his life with his son-in-law, John A. Kinzie.

7. Jesse Quinter Early, b. Jan. 26, 1888; d. May 27, 1916. No. 90h.

We have tried hard to get further information on the family of John Early who married Elizabeth Miller, but up to date we have been unable to get it. Mr. Joseph Early of Monaca, Pa., has furnished us with information of the family of Noah Early, one of the sons of John, which we give. Frank Early Brower of Ohio has given the following general information:

“The Nicums lived and died in this vicinity (near Dayton, O.); the Mohlers and Jacob Earlys moved to Missouri and have been largely lost to the family here; the Van Winkles also left this community, but have a daughter living in Chicago; the Deems, the Smiths, the Martin Earlys, the Noah Earlys, the Foutzes and the Joseph Earlys, all spent most of their lives in Preble and Montgomery counties, Ohio. The Wolfes lived, I think, in the county next south of here. Elizabeth Miller Early is buried in an old cemetery near Dayton, O. She is said to have been a woman of wonderfully fine Christian character.

Those who had known her said that to know her was to love her."

We are indebted to Miss Mary Rothgeb of Washington, D. C. for some history of the Early family which shows that one Jacob Early came from Germany in 1700. His son, John, who lived in Pennsylvania for a time, was the father of Jacob Early who was b. in 1778. This Jacob married Magdalene Wenger, and it was their son, John, who married Elizabeth Miller.

David Benjamin Garber was b. in Montgomery county, O. a few weeks before the close of the Civil War. His parents then moving back to Virginia where they were born, his boyhood and youth was spent in the latter state, attending public school and teaching in the vicinity of Bridgewater, Va., and then taking a course at Bridgewater College. In the spring of 1886, the compiler of this genealogy had the honor of addressing the first class graduating from Bridgewater College, then The Virginia Normal. Mr. Garber was a member of this class. After teaching about six years in Maryland and Virginia, he took a stenographic course at Valparaiso, Ind. He filled a number of business positions very creditably, among them being private secretary to Congressman George W. Steele of Marion, Ind., which position he held for four years. Later in life he was cashier of the bank of Markle. In 1896, he was elected to the ministry and ordained to the Eldership in 1901. For about 15 years he was pastor of the Markle church of the Brethren. He also had charge of the Pleasant Grove Church, near Liberty Center, Ind., for four years, and the Pleasant Dale Church, near Decatur for five years.

Ora William Garber graduated from Manchester College with an A. B. degree in 1927. In 1930 he received his B. D. from Hartford Theological Seminary, and in May 1931 he received the degree of Master of Sacred Theology from the same institution. He is now pastor of the Des Moines Valley Church, Elkhart, Ind.

Loren V. Karnes is a graduate of Manchester College, and has his Master's degree from the University of Illinois. He has also done resident work for his Ph.D. He is teaching at North Webster, Ind. P. O. address, Leesburg, Ind., R. D. No. 1.
